Against all odds, Carole Little succeeded in life through sheer determination, courage and perseverance. Carole overcame numerous obstacles never accepting what those around her believed.

Carole inspires and motivates her audiences to create positive transformation in their own lives by using both her professional and personal life experiences. Her passion for life, for helping others and her talent for sparking the desire for personal growth that lives in each one of us, are all hallmarks of her work.

When her family said women didn’t go to college, Carole walked away at age 16, determined to get an education. When her guidance counselor told her she wasn’t smart enough, she went on to win a full scholarship to Boston University.

Later, an accident prevented her from finishing college, she went on to lead several social service organizations that have helped thousands of individuals in need.

Carole currently serves as President & CEO of one of Houston's award winning social service ministries. Carole has been leading and inspiring teams to achieve new heights for well over a decade. Carole holds a Master’s in Organizational Management and is a Certified Professional Coach.

- Motivational - Carole's message is always compelling.
- Humorous - Audiences will laugh and cry but they always come away inspired.
- Compelling Story Teller—Carole's uncanny ability to keep audiences spellbound with real life stories keep them on the edge of their seats.
